Jessica Mast began riding at age 3 and grew up participating in the North Carolina 4-H Horse Program where she was exposed to and had the opportunity to participate in several different disciplines, however the Tennessee Walking Horse has always been her first love. She received her first registered TWH at the age of 12 and began showing in 4-H and breed shows up to the Regional and National levels. At age 15 she began teaching riding lessons and over the following years had many students go on to compete successfully at State, Regional and National shows.

After attending college at North Carolina State University, Jessica began training professionally. She focuses on producing horse/rider teams that are competitive in the amateur and youth ranks. Since relocating to Shelbyville, TN in 2015 her amateur and youth riders have won numerous awards at the National and World Championship levels.

Jessica and her husband, David Mast, own and operate Stonewall Farm in Shelbyville, TN where they specialize in training flat-shod Tennessee Walking Horses.

Kyle Elliott began his training career on his parents' farm in Enumclaw, Washington in 2013. In the fall of 2014, he relocated to New London, Ohio before settling in Shelbyville, Tennessee. Kyle has produced National, International and World Champions including WC Twenty Four Carrots ML, WC N-V, RWGC Magellan, RWC A Jazz Fest, RWC Privileged, RWC The Girls Knight Out. Additionally, Kyle was the first ever winner of The Maiden Championship aboard WC Twenty Four Carrots ML. Kyle owns and operates Elliott Performance Horses in Shelbyville, Tennessee with his assistant Pancho Alvarez
